

The Salutory Gift

GENERAL INTRODUCTION

The chief blessing of the Lord's Supper is made clear by the words of Christ's institution: "Given and shed for you for the forgiveness of sins." The forgiveness of sins, won for us on Calvary and offered in the Sacrament of our Lord's body and blood truly makes this blessed Supper a "salutory gift" (Post-Communion Collect). While the chief blessing and benefit of the Lord's Supper is the forgiveness of sins, there are several different images and metaphors used by Holy Scripture to highlight the blessings of the Lord's Supper, many of which are reflected in our hymns.

Consider the following examples: In Stephen Starke's hymn "The Tree of Life," the Lord's crucified body and blood are depicted as a life-giving fruit that flows from the tree of the cross. "For all who trust and will believe, Salvation's living fruit receive. And of this fruit so pure and sweet The Lord invites the world to eat, To find within this cross of wood The tree of life with ev'ry good" (LSB 561:4). This fruit is contrasted with the fruit that Adam and Eve ate in the Garden of Eden, bringing the world into sin and ruin. For the sacramentally minded Christian, it is not difficult to connect this "pure and sweet" fruit with what is received, eaten, and drunk in Holy Communion.

Another benefit of the Lord's Supper is its nourishing power. Martin Luther in the Large Catechism calls the Lord's Supper a "food of souls, which nourishes and strengthens the new man" (Part 5, par. 23). For this reason, several hymns appropriately refer to the Lord's Supper as "bread from heaven" or "living bread." Stanza 1 of LSB hymn 625 naturally reflects this: "Lord Jesus Christ, life-giving bread, May I in grace possess You. Let me with holy food be fed, In hunger I address You." These words remind the communicant who hungers and thirsts for righteousness (cf. Matthew 5:6) that God has lovingly prepared for him in the Sacrament a nourishing meal to strengthen him in his lifelong journey towards the promised land of heaven.

Drawing upon the scriptural themes of healing, some of our hymns depict the Lord's Supper as a healing balm or medicine. A classic example of this is David W. Rogner's hymn "Jesus Comes Today With Healing" (LSB 620). Stanza one emphasizes the healing benefits of Christ's body and blood: "Jesus comes today with healing, Knocking at my door, appealing, Off'ring pardon, grace, and peace. He Himself makes preparation, And I hear His invitation: "Come and taste the blessed feast." Christians who are suffering from bodily ailments may take comfort in considering the Lord's Supper as a healing medicine, seeing that the complete healing of their bodies in the resurrection begins now with the healing of the soul in the Sacrament of the Altar.

More examples will be developed throughout the course of this Lenten series. The goal of this series is to set before our eyes the many blessings and benefits of the Lord's Supper, chief among which is the forgiveness of sins. Our hymns help us in this regard by making connections that we might not otherwise make. They draw upon the themes of Holy Scripture and teach us to appreciate the full range of blessings that are present when the faithful are gathered around the life-giving, nourishing, and salutory gift of our Lord's holy body and precious blood.

Proverbs 22:6

What better way to train a child than to give them an opportunity to join the fun for Cub Weeks at Camp Okoboji in July! The Camp Okoboji Auxiliary is again giving away scholarships for a week at Camp for children ages 9-13.

The path is so easy. Stop by the church office and pick up an application. Applicants do need to be members of a Missouri Synod Lutheran Church.

They must in their own words—100 or less—tell our selection committee why they would love to go to camp this year. The Auxiliary will pay the child’s cost and we will also pay the way for one of their pals to go with them.

Applications must be received in the Camp Office no later than March 29th. The committee will review the applications and make the selections. Please note that preference will be given to campers who have not previously won

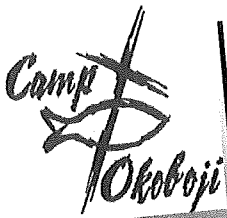

The children selected will be announced at the Camp’s Annual Meeting that will be held on April 22nd. They will be individually notified later and will receive the necessary information to complete their application for Cub Week

If you have any questions or need help with the application, you can contact Rebecca Dose.

March Madness

For many individuals the month of March means one thing—"March Madness," the NCAA basketball tournament. To those who don't "understand," it may seem like a lot of foolishness, but to those who embrace the game of college basketball, there's no better time of year! (I must confess that I'm in the latter group!)

There's another "March Madness" that we will observe this year. The first day of March kicks off the church season of Lent, the 40-day period in which we journey with our Lord to the city of Jerusalem where He will be betrayed, condemned, and crucified. To many it's madness that the King of Kings would be betrayed and beaten. It's madness that the perfect Son of God would be condemned and crucified like a common criminal. It's madness that He would do all of this willingly. As St. Paul writes, The message of the cross is foolishness [madness?] to those who are perishing (1 Corinthians 1:18).

However, to those of us who see with the eyes of faith, it's not madness. It's love—God's indescribable, unfailing, undeserved, and perfect love for us that led Him to take our place in death for our sin. It's peace—peace with God because we have received forgiveness for all our sin. And it's victory—victory over sin, death, and Satan!

Enjoy the tournament if you like, but more importantly participate in the "March Madness" of Lent—culminating in Holy Week and Easter. Identify one practical way you can demonstrate that amazing love to one who doesn't understand the Savior. Then pray for an opportunity to explain the reasoning behind your actions!

News from the Sharp family serving the Lord in Uruguay

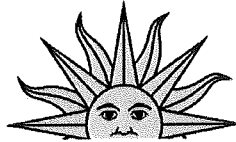

www.lcms.org/sharp

HOME SERVICE UPDATE Sharps are coming back to the USA in May!

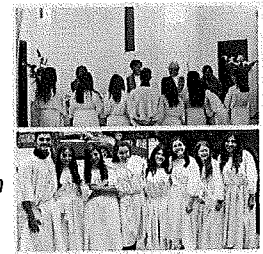

It is hard to believe sometimes that we have already been serving in Uruguay for two years. About every 22-25 months, missionaries come back to the United States for Home Service. We will be back in the States for about 8 weeks. We are finalizing the dates for our trip home to reconnect with our friends and supports and visit our families. We will be based out of Angie's hometown of Denison, Iowa, and will make a couple of trips in various directions to try to connect with and talk to and visit with and thank as many of our supports as we can. We will begin to publish a schedule as soon as the we have the information. We look forward to this opportunity to tell you all in person what we have been doing on your behalf as your missionaries in Uruguay.

Preaching dates will fill up fast, but even more important are those great opportunities we get to talk to people in smaller settings like youth groups, Bible studies, LWML meetings, church dinners, or whatever other group we can get together!

If you are interested in a visit, let us know! We are pretty flexible! We will let you know when the dates are firm but we will be in the USA from Mid-May to early August.

What a joy to preach for Confirmation Sunday at San Pablo. God bless these young people as they grow in faith in their Savior.

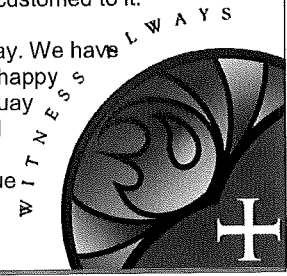

Accustomed

As we were coming up to Christmas, it was getting hotter and hotter. I don't know if I'll ever get used to this – hot Christmas. People we don't know ask us a lot if we like Uruguay. We always say yes. People we know, though, we ask us a lot if we are "accustomed" to Uruguay. In Spanish, they don't say it quite the same as we do in English. We say we "get accustomed" as if it's just something that happens. In Spanish, you "accustom yourself" to new things. Some things, we are getting accustomed to. Some things, we are working hard to accustom ourselves to. Some things seem like maybe there will always be part of us that finds this place strange – like hot Christmas.

The kids, of course, are doing better with all of it that we are. After two years, our kids are pretty Uruguayan. Sometimes, if I'm not 100% sure how to say something, I ask Ambrose to make sure I got it right. It's fun to see how naturally our kids do all the little things that we have to work hard to remember.

As you come to the end of Advent, the days are getting longer, not shorter; the weather's getting warmer, not colder. When you go to the store, they are selling Christmas decorations and beach paraphernalia. This was strange to us, but it is still a time of anticipation, of looking forward, of getting ready. Then – Confirmation?? By the time Christmas rolls around, a lot of people have already gone on vacation. Instead of the busiest, most crowded services of the year, Christmas is low-key and sort of... relaxed? Through the end of December and almost all of January, Montevideo is a ghost town. There's much less traffic in the city center, there is plenty of street parking, there are fewer people on the streets. But we have gotten accustomed to it.

On January 29th, we celebrated our 2nd anniversary in Uruguay. We have been blessed in so many ways we can't count them. We are happy that we have been used to help the Lutheran Church of Uruguay in extending the Kingdom of God in this country. We thank all who are sending us here and we pray God's blessings on his whole Church throughout the world as we proclaim the true Light of Christ in this world that is lost in the darkness of sin.

News and Prayer Requests

- At the City Center Mission, we are still looking for guidance and a blessing to find a new place to carry out our ministry. We have been busy looking for places to rent or to buy and trying to align a church planting strategy with the resources and needs that we have. We have some options and some potential partners. The next few months will be very important. Meanwhile, we have finished adult confirmation and three adults have asked to become members of the church. Praise God for the growth of this mission. Ask him for opportunities to witness and a place to gather. Pray for our team and members here to trust in Him more strongly.
- St Paul School is in the middle of some work – both on the campus as well as a reorganization – that will help both the school and church grow. This is a very important time and we are blessed to be a part of this ministry going forward. Summer is ending and school will be starting again soon. The Sharp kids will all have new teachers and new classmates (and are kind of anxious that some of their close friends aren't in their class this year). Angie will be spending more time in the classroom at the school and we will continue to work with the school chaplaincy to connect with people who participate in the school community but do not know Jesus. Pray for a good school year for the Sharp kids. Thank God for the growth of our church and school communities. Ask God to be with Angie to help her to use her gifts well as she expands her teaching ministry in the school.
- We have one of our first “nationwide” events, a Sunday School teachers’ training retreat coming up in February. Training Sunday School teachers will help our missions reach families and begin making disciples of children. James is presenting on Law and Gospel in the Sunday School and Angie is organizing the whole thing and is teaching a section on classroom management and lesson planning. This is a major part of Angie’s task here, putting to work her training and experience as a Lutheran school teacher. Pray for the Lord to guide and bless Angie’s work and to raise up faithful people to serve as Sunday School teachers in our missions.
- We are counting down to the 500th Anniversary of the Reformation and we have been using that to reach out to people who might not know much about it. Uruguayans know Martin Luther and think of him as someone who advocated for personal freedom and freedom of conscience. They do not know much about the background or the doctrines or the Reformation. We have already had some wonderful events that allowed us to share the Gospel with people who were interested in the history of Luther but had never heard the beautiful teachings of salvation by grace alone through faith alone on account of Christ alone. Thank God for the beautiful heritage of the Reformation. Ask Him to use this occasion to open doors to share the Gospel with people who have not heard it proclaimed in its pure beauty.
- Everyone is healthy and feeling good right now. It has allowed us to be energetic and diligent in our work. Pray for the Lord to strengthen and heal us so we can carry out the tasks he gives us.
- The Chapicuy Mission is making decisions about a building on the new plot of land they bought. Thank God for this step in the growth of the Church here. Ask Him to provide the resources necessary to support proclamation of the Gospel in Northern Uruguay.
- We had a problem with our mail service. If you haven’t gotten a newsletter previously, it was our fault. By our fault, I mean my fault, James. Thanks to Linda, Duane, and Cindy at Mission Central and Karen at LCMS Mission Advancement for their help in getting this straightened out. Thank God for our all helpers back home who are sending us here.

We know we would not be doing this important work without your help.
For your prayers, support, and encouragement, THANK YOU!

Yours in the True Light, James, Angie, Elias, Ambrose, Callie, & Maggie John 1:9
